BLAINE CALLS SEVERSON TO ANSWER OR QUIT

LAKEVIEW—Charging that State Senator Herman C. Severson of Iowa, has repeatedly made charges of malfeasance in office of state officials and insinuated misconduct on part of public officials, Governor Blaine today summoned the Iowa senator to appear before him on Sept. 11, and show cause why he should not be removed as a member of the state free library commission.
The announcement responds the latest charge against the executive and Governor Blaine was prominent during the last legislature, when Severson sought passage of a resolution providing for an extended investigation of certain state departments. Severson was appointed to the state free library commission more than two years ago. The position is comparatively insignificant and a non-paid office.

WINTER CONCERT SERIES PROPOSED

Seek to Evolve Plan for Support of Bower City Band Program.

A series of community concerts by the Bower City band during the coming winter is considered possible, if money can be found to finance the project. The movement was given impetus by the announcement Saturday by Director R. C. Jack, speaking for his organization, that it would be willing to present the program.

The problem of securing sufficient money to pay band members is the outstanding obstacle to the project. It has been suggested, however, that collections be taken up among the audience, but in this event the rule of the board of education would subject the organization to the payment of a fee of $75 for use of the high school auditorium. The large hall is so far considered the only suitable place for the concert.

May Change Rule.—In the opinion of Mrs. D. W. Holm, president of the board, however, the charge subject to the board is not so high as to show that the rule is entirely for the benefit of the band, without profit, other than the usual salary, to either individuals or the organization.

A change in the rule for the use of the high school building would permit this step upon favorable action of the board.

It has been the policy of the board in the past to encourage the use of the high school building for all community purposes, where either private persons or organizations were benefited, but in otherwise charge a regular rental fee.

Band Is Popular.—The concert series held there last winter, which drew every seat in the house, and crowded dozens into the rear balcony, and the fine concert on the count house park this last year, have been attended by minimum crowds of 1,000, and frequently three or four times that many were present, showing that the organization has broadened its popularity.

The summer program was financed partly by city money and partly by private subscriptions made by business men through the channels of commerce.

It is considered inadvisable that aid will be given from business men, since the winter series, since the channels of commerce in sponsoring an elaborate program itself.

The movement toward free community concerts is considered one of the most serious of the year, since the channels of commerce in sponsoring an elaborate program itself.

CHRISTENSEN MAY BE INDEPENDENT

Beloit Man, Defeated for District Attorney Job, Considers Campaign.

Probability that Chester H. Christensen, Beloit attorney, decisively defeated at the primary Tuesday for the republican nomination for district attorney by George S. Geffs, of Janesville, will seek election as an independent candidate, learned Saturday.

Mr. Christensen, in replying to a question as to whether or not he would run independently, said that he was considering it, and would make known his decision within two or three days. Mr. Christensen runs, he will be the only one of those defeated for a republican nomination for a county office Tuesday who will oppose the republican ticket.

Former Sheriff Cash Whipple quoted reports he would run independently against George S. Geffs, nominating for sheriff by the republicans, declaring he will abide by the decision of the voters.

The Klan is believed to be the reason for the statement of Mr. Christensen that many of his friends did not vote for him because it had been sympathized with the Klan, but his statement following his defeat, declares there is no truth in this charge, which is not an honorable charge.

MONEY AND MARKETS

Wall Street, N. Y.—Continuation of hope for business prospects during the past few days has shown that the confidence already expressed by the stock market is illustrated in the more active trading and higher level of prices of the past two weeks. This has been amply justified. On Saturday last the government issued an official report which apparently confirms the 12,000,000 sales forecast that had been prevalent; while reports from the grain regions also show that the crop will be not only the largest in recent years, but will be very substantial. Apparently the season is already far advanced enough, both in cotton and in grain, to warrant confidence in a substantial and though not excessive yield, while the course of prices shows that conditions may reasonably be expected to ensure a very substantial money return to the producer. Coupled with this situation has been a continuation of a growing demand for foreign products and the development of higher prices for steel and steel derivatives, which point to increased activity, as well as satisfactory employment, in nearly all branches of the trade. Judge Gary estimates the current increase in orders at 10 per cent, plant capacity apparently being now over 50 per cent occupied.

General Business Also Good. Many indications point to decided and satisfactory activity in the part of general business as the autumn season opens. Retail trade reports have been very encouraging, affording good warrant for belief in a revival for distributable goods that have been current for some time past. Indebtedly autumn sales in the farming regions will be a good deal larger than last year, and merchants are making preparations to meet these demands by laying in satisfactory supplies of commodities. Contrary to expectations building has continued active in the country, many parts of the country and there has been excellent demand for a number of products which had shown some signs of slackening late in the season. The outlook for copper is now foreseen by producers, and as a result copper shares have maintained their values tolerably well. The larger concerns have turned in very hopeful earnings reports, among them two of the three of the automobile companies, which have exhibited improvement over the past quarter, while the United States Rubber company and some others in the same line of business report results which indicate that the process of re-adjusting that industry has reached an advanced point with a favorable outcome.

Railroad Earnings Favorable. Current railroad earnings, which have come to light for the month of July likewise reveal a very satisfactory condition of affairs. The stronger and better roads, such as Union Pacific, continue to exhibit improvement over last year and recession, where it has occurred, has been moderate. This is the outcome of the careful revision of expenses that has taken place in the industry, which has maintained itself so consistently in spite of recession in some lines of manufacturing. The handling of the coal business has been better than last year and in a good many cases exhibits gains. This accounts for the well maintained conditions on the part of most of the roads, while further progress toward more economic organization is clearly revealed by the completion of the merger negotiations between the Erie road and the Nickel Plate combination, which came to a head during the past week. The market has largely ceased to exhibit speculative conditions, believing that the attitude of both of the major candidates now in the field is satisfactory as regards the carriers and their rates. Another factor contributing to the general improvement, both of business and of popular attitude, which seems to ensure the continuance of good values in that branch of the market.

Political Prospects Encouraging. Campaign discussion during the middle of August has tended more to confirm the belief that a reasonable attitude toward national economic questions will be fully preserved regardless of the outcome of the election. The success of President Coolidge, however, appears as this passes to be more and more assured, and the fact that it is so has undoubtedly had a strengthening effect upon a number of lines of business and the securities representing them. There seems to be no likelihood that any material change will take place either in tariff duties or in financial policies.

Progress in Foreign Relations.

Although the further progress in connection with reparations has been slow it has certainly been positive and real. There now seems to be every reason for supposing that the results of the London conference will be accepted in Germany, while the vote of confidence by the French chambers in St. Thierry on the subject is more encouraging than had been anticipated. Meanwhile the discussion of actual terms for the new loan and the basis of the security which must be put behind it continue under advisement, with every reason to suppose that the support which is being accorded to it, both at Washington and elsewhere, will result in a successful flotation of the bonds when the time comes to issue them.

Lending Power Increased. In spite of the moderate increase in brokers' loan current statistics seem to show that the actually available lending power of financial institutions is stronger and better than in the past. The discount rate has fallen off, and reserve banks, even below the former low level. Members are feeling but the demand for funds, due to the fact that commodities are moving freely to market with but little or no congestion, either in the agricultural districts or in the manufacturing regions. Accordingly, active increase of demand for accommodation need not be expected in the immediate future, and the volume of spare funds in the hands of the banks has probably increased rather than diminished. While the very strong level of bond values is tending to discourage the same freedom of purchase which prevailed some time ago there has been a disposition to pick up bargains wherever analysis showed that prices were at all out of line with the general situation. Foreign exchange has revealed a much greater tendency to steadiness than has existed for some weeks past and present prices may be said to represent the stabilized or waiting position of traders who are desirous of getting definite information as to the actual disposition of reparations issues before they commit themselves more definitely. A favorable announcement on the reparations question would undoubtedly bring about the decisive move in some directions that have been forecast.

The active trading during the week, coupled with some recession in prices, has represented nothing more than a corrective movement designed to bring about a more solid position in the general situation. Traders have been active in seeking out weak spots with some success, and this kind of selling has been augmented by speculation on the part of some of the pools. The movements of the earlier part of the week have now been succeeded by a better feeling, due undoubtedly to the belief that the general situation is stronger foundation under existing values. No great recession is looked for at the present time, although more or less irregularity in the market may be expected on the arrival of rather more definite developments in foreign relations. Nothing of a very pronounced nature is appearing in sight, however, that would warrant lack of confidence in the outcome.

Janesville Buick Company Secures Added Territory

Janesville becomes the center for distribution of Buick automobiles over an extensive piece of rich territory in the announcement made by the Janesville Buick company, Saturday, that it has taken over the franchise for all of Rock county and parts of Walworth, Dane and Green counties in Wisconsin, also a section of Winnebago county in Illinois.

The announcement was made by Howard I. Scherer, proprietor of the Janesville Buick company, 110 North Academy street, and Gerald D. Scherer, local manager. The step means that the local concern becomes master dealer for this section, handling shipments and sales for its sub-dealers, thus making Janesville the Buick center for Southern Wisconsin.

The company was established here one year ago and Mr. Scherer reports business amounting to $275,000 handled in that length of time. At present only a sales room is operated here but the company is planning to open up a modern Buick service station in the near future, Mr. Scherer said.

Reserve Bank Report for the Seventh District on Agricultural Outlook

Chicago—Reports on agriculture for the Seventh Reserve bank district are interesting this month. The report is:

Reports of early threshing returns sent direct to this bank indicate that the oat yield per acre will be greater in 1923 than a year ago in Michigan, Iowa and the northern part of Indiana, wheat is yielding more per acre than in 1922, but in other parts of the district the average is somewhat below last year. Reports from 125 county agents representing 183,000 farmers show that in a large portion of the Seventh district the growth of corn to date has been retarded to such an extent that there is no assurance the crop will reach full maturity before early frosts may be expected.

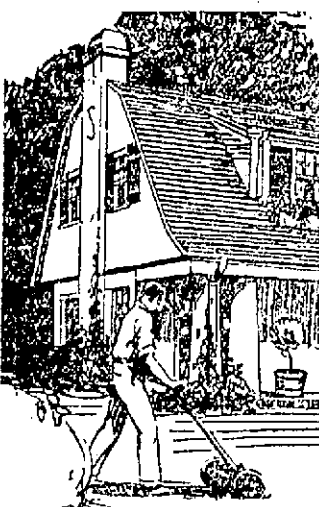

Dairy herds have increased over a year ago but fewer other cattle are on farms than at this time last year. Calf production in the Seventh district during the first seven months of 1923 nearly equaled the figure for the corresponding period in 1922. In the United States there were 6 per cent more milk cows, two years old and over, on farms June 1, 1923, than on farms corresponding date in 1922, according to a recent estimate by the Department of Agriculture.

Dairy Products and Poultry. The seasonal decrease in butter production normally begins in July; this year the district output of creamery butter in July fell 6.4 per cent below the June level but was 10.1 per cent in excess of that of a year ago, according to reports submitted by representative factories. Statistics issued weekly by the American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers indicate a total July production in the United States lower than in the preceding month. Wisconsin factories made 2.6 per cent less cheese during the week ended Aug. 9 than in the prior period, the output being 1.9 per cent under that in the corresponding period of 1922. In the Seventh district, the sales of cream butter declined 6.5 per cent from June but were 18.3 per cent in excess of the total for July last year, according to statistics compiled from reports by representative companies.

A lessened volume of eggs and butter and cheese and poultry in greater quantity arrived at Chicago during July than in the preceding month, receipts exceeding those of a year ago. Supplies of dairy products in cold storage warehouses in the United States rose above the level of a year ago, being greater than on the corresponding date a year ago or the five-year average for Aug. 1. Stocks of poultry were reduced slightly from a year ago, the total being somewhat under that at the beginning of August last year. Prices during July of all products averaged lower at Chicago than in June but have again moved toward higher levels.

As a result of a seasonal reduction in the number of hogs received, employment at slaughtering establishments in the United States declined 2.9 per cent in number, 6.1 per cent in hours worked, and 4.3 per cent in total payrolls for the period covered by the last pay-date in July compared with the corresponding period in the preceding month. Despite an increase in the amount of veal, beef and lamb produced, the aggregate total of products was slightly lower than in June. Statistics compiled from reports made direct to this bank by 51 meat packing companies in the United States show total sales for July 6.1 per cent greater than in the prior month and 4.4 per cent in excess of those for July a year ago. Supplies of meat and lamb in cold storage warehouses in the United States declined from July 1, and with the exception of lamb and beef all were under a year ago. Total holdings were slightly lower than the Aug. 1 average for the three-year period, 1921-23.

At Chicago, prices of beef held

STATE HIGHWAYS IMPROVED IN CITY

Report Shows Janesville Keeping Up 5.64 Miles in Construction Limits.

Janesville has a total of 5.64 miles of state trunk highway within the construction limits of the city, exclusive of those portions of the highways which are routed over the same street, according to a report compiled for City Manager Henry Thacker for use in connection with the city petition for state and federal aid in paving Route 12 on North Washington street from Highland avenue north to the city limits. The report contains a brief resume of what Janesville has done this year toward improving state trunk highways within the construction limits of the city indicative of the municipality's progressive attitude in coöperating with the state road system.

The list of trunk highways and improvements made in the city is complete with the exception of showing the work done in paving Pleasant street which will be the new route for Highway 20.

Construction Limits Outlined. The state trunk highways within the city construction limits are listed as follows: Highway 12—Enters city on North Washington street and begins at city limits, continues southerly to Mineral Point avenue, thence east on Mineral Point avenue and southerly on Franklin street to Milwaukee street; thence westerly on Milwaukee street to Center avenue and south on Center avenue, ending at the north side of River street. Highway 13—Consists of 2.5 miles of highway within the construction limits of the city. Highway 20—Enters city on East Main street, thence southerly on South Main street, thence southerly on South Main street to Milwaukee street; thence westerly on Milwaukee street to Franklin street. Consisting of 1.12 miles of highway within the construction limits of the city, exclusive of that part of highway 20, which follows Highway 13 not as well off as the others but the westerly of Franklin street.

Highway 25—Starting at the intersection of North Main street and East Main street, thence southerly on East Main street to the north side of Hyatt street; thence southerly on Hyatt street to Franklin street. Consisting of 1.12 miles of highway within the construction limits of the city.

The report lists the following new construction and maintenance work done or to be done on these highways during 1923: Highway 12—North Washington street to be paved with concrete from Mineral Point avenue to Highland avenue.

Highway 25—Milwaukee avenue paved with concrete from East street to St. Mary's avenue.

Highway 20—Drain pavement on North Main and Milwaukee streets, replaced with tarmac and pea gravel, sunken service ditches and depressions raised, and storm sewer connections installed and repaired.

Highway 13—Repairs made at the intersection of North Bluff street and Fourth avenue, consisting of storm drain installations and repair of pavement.

CAVE DWELLINGS IN SIBERIA. Krasnoyarsk, Siberia—Two explorers, Amerbach and Senevalier, are reported to have discovered the cave dwellings of pre-historic inhabitants of middle Siberia. Some 700 utensils, made of stone or of bones, were found, the latter were under the supervision and the scepters of chiefs.

WAR FINANCE BODY CONFIRMS REPORTS OF BUMPER CROPS

is to the interest of the War Finance corporation not to be deceived. So its information may be taken as authentic so far as official data gathered from agents is concerned. It is supposed to be a non-political, non-partisan institution. And it excludes optimism today for the first time in many months.

Conservative Mr. Meyer. Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance corporation, is conservative and cautious in his statements. His latest declaration is that there will be an increase of over 20,000,000 bushels in the wheat crop of North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana, as compared with 1922. This increased yield was developed on from 16 to 15 per cent less acreage than before.

This is perhaps the most significant fact about the agricultural situation. For while agricultural prices are high, relatively speaking, the farmer has produced more per acre so his financial return is correspondingly greater. It means that even with a drop in prices the farmer would still be better off than before. His return per acre will be greater than last year in any event.

Good Weather Here. What has happened in a sense is the favorable weather of a summer coincided with unfavorable weather in other wheat producing countries. Will these conditions continue next year? Nobody knows. That's the trouble in farming always. But the agriculturalists in the country have had in a generation. It is the succession of bad weather which freezes up the credit situation.

The War Finance corporation looks forward to a general reduction in indebtedness all along the line. Bankers are writing enthusiastically that the turn has come and that sections of the country which were hardest hit have been particularly favored with good crops. Corn crops are not so good as weather conditions have not been altogether favorable but the high prices have helped the corn grower materially. The early harvest are not as well off as the others but the War Finance corporation says positively:

Prosperity Vital Factor. "An indirect but of great importance to the breeding of the livestock business—which may be hoped for a little later if not immediately. As the resumption of cattle-raising by the northwest is reasonable, in any event, to expect better prices and a broader market for breeding animals in view of the general trend of agricultural prices in the upward direction. The outlook for hides has been improving for the past two months."

The word agriculture is a broad term. No doubt there are sections and individuals still writhing in pessimism but the general trend is quite the opposite.

Prosperity Vital Factor. Prosperity this year is always, is so much interwoven with the prosperity and material side of the elements that favorable agricultural conditions cannot but be viewed as a vital factor in the coming presidential elections. The discontent and rebellion in the west in the republicans has been checked with it has not been caused by unfavorable farm conditions. Radicalism rarely thrives in contentment. President Coolidge has been told that the improvement in the agricultural situation will not altogether eradicate radicalism this year in the west but it will reduce by large blocks the radical vote of other years so that the big question is whether the normal gap between the republican and democratic parties in the solidly republican states is big enough to permit of defections to La Follette and still leave a Coolidge plurality. The republican theory is that if things go well with the farmer, he will not want change because he dislikes uncertainty. Nature is therefore the biggest ally Mr. Coolidge's political campaign has won.

For it is admitted that a continuance of distressing conditions would have meant serious losses in the Cleveland college. Instead today there is supreme confidence in the White House that the west will stay regular.

Fort High Team Heavy, But Candidates Are Few

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE) Candidates for the Fort Atkinson high school football team have been reported daily to Coach Clarence Shendrich. While the material is unusually heavy, it is very green and raw as only two men of experience remain for the new coach to build a team around. These are Capt. McNeill, fullback and line, tackle, and quarterback, and Coach Shendrich, last year, are back, but every other position has to be filled by men without experience. Coach Shendrich is hoping for more candidates. He is daily working on fundamentals and keeping an eye open for center and quarterback material. Shendrich, 22, pound newsmen, is a candidate for the former position, and Wesley, another newsmen from Dakota, looks most promising for the quarter position.

ZR-3 Ready to Venture Across Atlantic to U. S.

The ZR-3, greatest of all the zeppelins, is ready to venture forth from Friedrichshafen, Germany, for the United States to be turned over to the government as part payment of the reparations account. Above is a view of the interior of the huge gas bag; below are officers who will fly it across the Atlantic: (Left to right) Major Kennedy, U. S. Army; Commander Kraus, U. S. Navy; Dr. Hugo Eckener, veteran zeppelin pilot, and Captain Steele, U. S. Navy.

Camera Shy Prince of Wales Stays On Horse On Long Island

These two photos of the Prince of Wales on Long Island were taken despite his efforts to avoid cameramen. He is shown (inset) in an informal crouch, and securely on horseback while participating in an informal polo game at the country place of William R. Grace at Old Westbury. He turned his head when he saw the camera aimed at him.

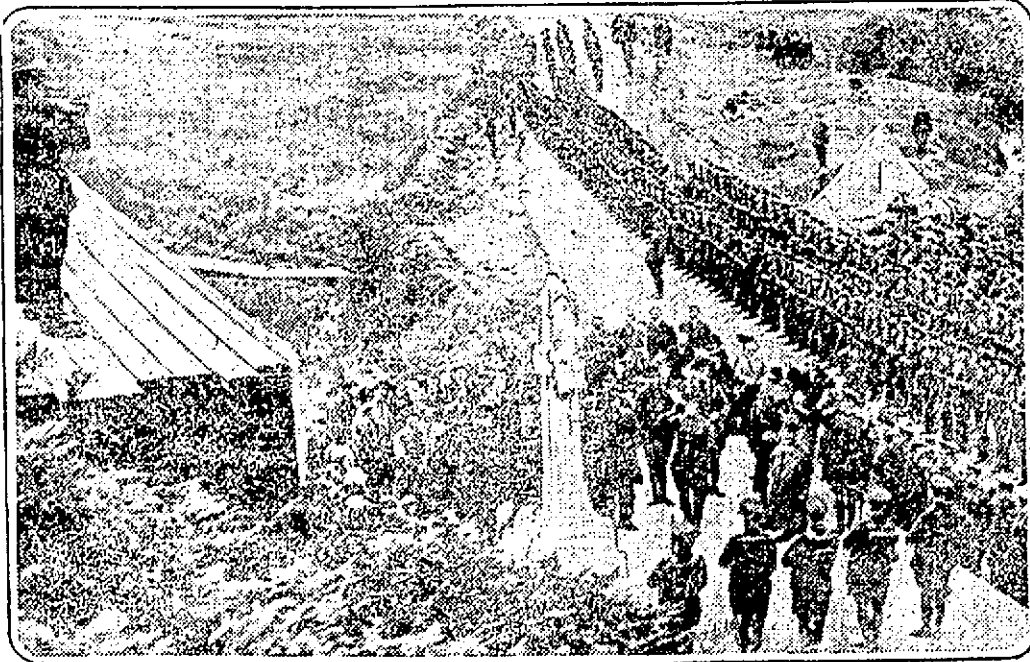

"I spent four years of hell with 'Baby,' yet four years that were the sweetest I ever knew," says Mrs. Elsie Hinman Dula (right), who is suing in New York the wealthy parents of her husband, Robert Dula, Jr., for $250,000, charging alienation of affections. Robert Dula, Sr., is above, Mrs. Dula, Sr., in the center, and Robert, Jr., below, at left.

Duke of Westminster Is Barred From Ejecting Wife From House

London is anxiously awaiting the next round in the legal skirmishings of the Duke of Westminster and his latest wife. While the Duchess Violet was on her way to the United States, her attorneys succeeded in getting a court order preventing the Duke's servants from ejecting her or her servants from Bourdon House in London. The Duke is now cruising in the Mediterranean on his $5,000,000 yacht.

Irish Hatchet Momentarily Buried at Collins Tribute

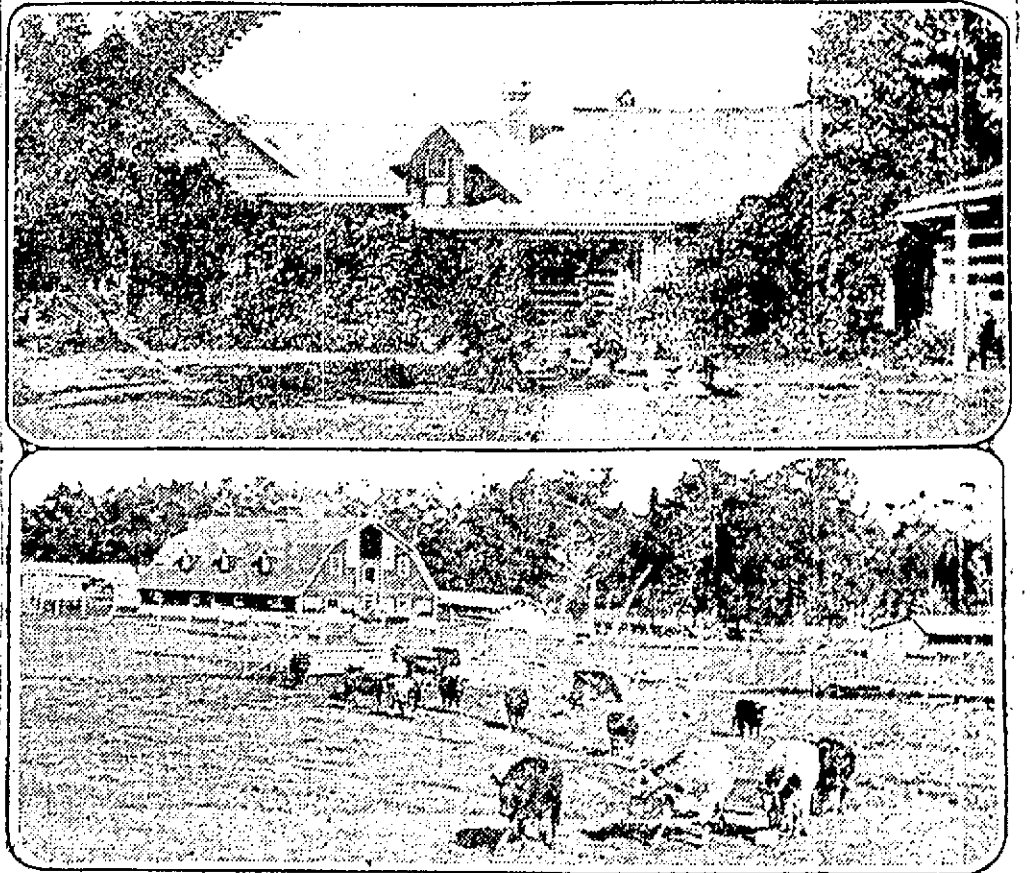

The Irish factional warfare hatchet was momentarily buried when thousands gathered at Ballyinadeath to pay tribute to the memory of Michael Collins, slain Irish leader. A monument of him was unveiled on the spot on which he was assassinated. President Cosgrave and other leaders representing all factions, were present.

Presidential Candidates Struggle for Labor Vote

The labor vote is getting the particular attention of the presidential candidates at this time. Above, Calvin Coolidge is seen greeting labor leaders at the White House. He is chatting with T. V. O'Connor (right), former president of the longshoremen's union, and Dan G. Smith (center), head of the switchmen's union. Below, John W. Davis is shaking hands with railroad workers in Chicago. At right, Robert M. La Follette is broadcasting from Washington an appeal for labor.

Where Prince of Wales Will Be a "Farm Boy"

The privacy from the prying eyes of reporters and sightseers that he has not been able to get so far, the Prince of Wales hopes to find when he revisits his "E. P." ranch at High River, Alberta, in the Canadian Rockies. Above is the house in which he will live; below is a view of the dairy yard where he will do chores.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, running mate of Robert M. La Follette, independent presidential candidate, is on the warpath. He is shown in action in Boston.

Hurricane Whacks Ships, Sends Passengers to Hospital

Scores of transatlantic travelers are in hospitals in New York recovering from severe injuries received when a hurricane caught liners and tossed them about as if they were canoes. An idea of the damage done to one of the ships, the Arabic, is given by the photo above. Also shown are one of the many persons injured aboard the Arabic, Miss V. Barton (left), and Thomas F. Owen, seaman, who was washed overboard by one towering wave only to be tossed back by another.

MOTORIST'S

Pointers on Buying a Used Car

Right through the year new cars are being bought and old cars either sold or traded in. During the fall and at the beginning of spring, however, is the best time to buy a used car, for at these seasons of the year there are always a very large number of used cars on the market and you therefore have a better selection to choose from. The first thing I want to point out is that there is a great deal of difference in the procedure followed when buying a new car to that when buying a used car.

When you buy a new car, you know positively that it is in perfect mechanical condition and the principal points you consider are—price, general appearance, riding qualities and power.

When you buy a used car, general appearance, although it is important, takes second place to the mechanical condition of the car. It is a comparatively simple matter to slick up the body finish and paint the running gear and make a used car look nearly as well as a new car. But if you only knew the condition of that car under the hood and could know in advance the price it is going to have and the money it is going to cost for repairs, you would quickly decide that when buying a used car, outside appearance is not quite so important as the condition of the engine and running gear.

There are many bargains to be picked up in used cars IF YOU KNOW HOW TO PICK THEM. There are many tricks the owner of a used car can use to conceal defects, but a systematic examination and test will protect you against most of them. The trouble is that the average man when buying a used car does not make a careful enough examination and judges the car more on outside appearance and the claims made by the owner.

In buying a used car the first question to decide is—from whom will you buy the car, a private owner or a dealer. My advice to you is to buy from a dealer, a responsible dealer and preferably one that handles new as well as used cars. For some reason a number of people are suspicious of a dealer and think they can buy a used car much cheaper from a private owner than they can from a dealer. This is not so, for generally the private owner sells his car "as is" while the dealer carefully examines the cars he sells and puts them in good running order. The term "as is" is one you should thoroughly understand if you are thinking of buying a used car.

When you buy from a private owner, you buy "as is" for in other words if the car has been doped up in some way or has some defect which was concealed or temporarily repaired for the demonstration, you have no come back, for you had a chance to examine the car before you bought it. Once the seller has your money and you have his car, the transaction is concluded.

When you buy a used car "as is" it is more than probable that within a very short time you will have to start spending money replacing worn parts. When a reputable dealer takes a used car in trade, he has it overhauled in his shops and put in first class condition and all worn parts replaced.

If you want a used car in good mechanical condition, therefore, the best place to go for it is the dealer. The best dealer to buy a used car from is the dealer who also sells the same make of car new. When he sells a car, either new or used, his reputation is behind it. When you want service or parts, you know you can always get them.

Another risk you run in buying a used car from a private owner you do not know, is that of getting a stolen car. Thousands of cars are stolen every month by thieves who make a business of it, and it happens every day that a car bought from some unknown person has to be returned to its rightful owner. If you DO buy a car from someone you do not know, before you pay for it take the car and engine numbers and ask some insurance company to look it up for you. They will be able to tell you whether the person selling the car is the rightful owner and at the same time can give you the exact age of the car. The engine number is usually stamped on the right side of the crank case while the car number is usually stamped on a plate placed on dash under hood or on toe board.

It is always good policy to ask for a bill of sale describing the car fully, its age, condition, and guarantee and for how long it is guaranteed. The usual period covered by a guarantee is 90 days. During this time it is possible to thoroughly test out the car and discover any defects and have them remedied before the guarantee expires. Buying a car in this way you usually pay a little more, but it is worth it.

Next week I shall give you detailed instructions showing how to make a systematic examination and test of a used car to find out just what kind of condition it is in.

Writing New Chapters of Transportation History

It is widely recognized that the motorbus is the most conspicuous, and important single transportation development of recent years.

Travel via this comfortable, efficient carrier has become popular in every part of the country. An idea of a few years ago has been transformed into an industry of today. Bus transportation has taken a definite place in the social and economic life of the nation.

The Firestone organization is proud of the part it is playing in developing and stabilizing the motorbus industry.

One of the outstanding contributions was the evolution of the present Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord, which not only puts more mileage under buses and provides easier riding qualities, but assures dependable and uninterrupted motorbus service.

Naturally, Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are the choice of many of the country's most successful bus lines. These tires speed up schedules, minimize delays, cut repairs and reduce costs per bus mile to the most economical basis.
